

ONE INFANTILE PARALYSIS CASE IN THIS COUNTY

Charles Berwager Age Seven Years Is in Serious Condition

An Adams county home was quarantined for infantile paralysis on Friday by William I. Shields, of Gettysburg, county health officer.

The child stricken with the disease is Charles Berwager, aged 7 years, son of Clark Berwager, Abbottstown R. 1. The father is employed in New Oxford.

Dr. Charles M. Wagner, of Hanover, is the attending physician. The boy's legs are affected and he is unable to walk.

Charles' condition was given as "satisfactory" at noon today.

There are four other children of the Berwager family at home. The oldest child attends New Oxford high school and the others go to a Berwick township school.

The action of the Gettysburg Board of Health in restricting the attendance of children 18 years old or younger at any public gathering received the cooperation of parents and others involved as it went into effect on Friday.

The Gettysburg Ministerium promised its aid insofar as the ban affects Sunday Schools and the Warner Brothers theatres also are helping to enforce the order that will be in effect until September 1.

Urges County Ban

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county medical director, urged today that regulations similar to those adopted for Gettysburg be extended voluntarily to all sections of the county. He pointed out that boys and girls affected by the ban should avoid public dances throughout the county, as well as athletic contests that might be scheduled. He emphasized also that theatre and church restrictions being enforced in Gettysburg should be followed by the other boroughs of the county as well.

Don Bream, president of the Gettysburg Community Softball League, announced today that the final game of the championship series between the Furniture and Katalysine teams would be postponed indefinitely. The game had been scheduled for Monday evening on the high school field. The postponement was decided upon because some of the players involved are under 18 years of age.

To Close Fair

It was announced today that the opening of the Farmers' Fair, near Abbottstown, scheduled for next Tuesday, has been postponed indefinitely because of the presence of paralysis in the area from which the fair draws its throngs.

Dr. Eugene Elgin, East Berlin, epidemiologist and chief of the restaurant hygiene division of the state Department of Health, and C. J. Meckley, also an official of the state Department of Health, conferred with directors of the fair Friday evening and agreed unanimously to take that action. Mr. Meckley and the other directors said they took the action in the interest of the health of the community.

Today Jack Lamont, manager of the Battletield swimming pool, a mile south of here along the Baltimore road, announced that he has closed the pool, voluntarily, for the remainder of the 1941 season. Mr. Lamont, who announces his action in a display advertisement in the Gettysburg Times today, stated that he feels "it is my duty" to take this precaution in the interest of community health although state tests have showed water in the pool to be "always 100 per cent pure."

2 in Franklin County

Two cases of infantile paralysis in southern Franklin county have been reported by Dr. T. D. White, of Orrstown, county medical officer, who coupled the announcement with a statement that he would order all public swimming pools in Franklin county closed as a precautionary measure.

Doctor White said one of those ill was a four-year-old child living near Marion, five miles south of Chambersburg, and the other was a child living in the Duffield community.

The members of the Gettysburg Board of Health renewed their appeal to local parents to keep their children from any public places during the ban. Many favorable comments concerning the precautionary ban were heard after it was announced on Friday.

Miss Mildred L. Adams, county girls' 4-H club leader, announced that final meetings for the season of seven clubs in many parts of the county, which were scheduled for next week, have been cancelled in cooperation with the move to prevent the spread of infantile paralysis here.

Miss Adams said also that the annual fall Round-Up of 4-H clubs in the county which was scheduled for Tuesday, August 26, at the Gettysburg high school, also has been cancelled.

Delayed Funds Paid To Two Townships

Payments to Menallen and Union townships have just been approved by Auditor General F. Clair Ross for relief associations of fire companies. The payments cover the year of 1938 and were delayed by a transfer of funds. The two townships in this county are among 239 municipalities sharing in the second distribution in three weeks from the Fire Insurance Tax Fund. There are yet 149 districts in the state that have not yet qualified by submitting proper reports.

Menallen township's payment is $19.70 and that for Union township is $9.55. Most townships and boroughs in the county shared in the first distribution.

Rationing Of Gasoline Ordered Throughout East

Washington, Aug. 16 (AP)—The government ordered gasoline rationing for the east today, and straightway the man at the fuel pump assumed new importance in the eyes of 10,000,000 motorists.

Filling station operators will be in direct control of the consumers' end of the conservation program, deciding how to divide their reduced supply among customers.

The rationing order, issued by the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply (OPACS), calls for a 10 per cent slash in deliveries of gasoline to service stations. However, the reduction in non-essential use of gasoline, such as in pleasure cars, is expected to amount to 20 per cent, since under the order commercial, emergency, farm and government vehicles will not be subject to the rationing at all.

The order, without precedent in peacetime, involves no issuance of individual ration cards.

M. E. Knouse, chairman of the executive committee of the Fair Association, said today that all preparations for the fair have been arranged. Several exhibit buildings are being improved and provisions are being made for a new exhibit feature this year—a joint exhibit by the Pennsylvania State College Extension Service in this county and the experimental laboratory staff at Arendtsville.

Motorist Faces Code Violation

A charge of driving to the left of the center of the highway was filed before Justice of the Peace Ray Sponseller, Hamilton township, against L. W. Small, 45, Dover R. 1, following a traffic accident early Friday morning on the East Berlin road, a mile north of Abbottstown.

The other vehicle involved was operated by M. W. Livingston, 38, York. Damage to the Small car and Livingston's truck was estimated at about $55. The machines were traveling in opposite directions when Small's car crossed to the wrong side of the road on a curve. It is believed the driver dozed at the wheel.

Private R. L. Dunham of the Gettysburg detail of the state motor police investigated. No one was injured.

MISS ADAMS IS HURT IN CRASH

Miss Mildred L. Adams, county home economics extension representative, suffered a fracture of a rib on the left side and bruises when her car, operated by Miss Marie Butler, Baltimore street, skidded on a wet street in Dillsburg, Friday afternoon, and hit a culvert and a telephone pole.

The crash occurred about 1:15 o'clock during a cloudburst as the young women were driving toward Harrisburg en route to Miss Adams' home at Stafford, New York, for the week-end.

Miss Butler was attempting to pass a large truck which had just driven onto the highway when the car skidded off the left side of the road and struck a concrete abutment. Then it turned over on its left side and the top was smashed against a pole.

Miss Butler, who is an employee of the State Department of Highways, escaped with bruises. Both young women suffered from shock. They came to Gettysburg for medical attention.

Miss Adams' car was badly damaged and was towed to Gettysburg.

Russia Will Get More Supplies For "Gallant Defense"

Conference of Representatives From England, United States and Russia Will Be Held in Moscow; Great Britain Needs Planes, Tanks and Food

Washington, Aug. 16 (AP)—Translating valiant words into action, the United States and Great Britain today undertook decisive steps designed to fulfill the aim of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill to hasten the "final destruction of Nazi tyranny."

While any further military, naval or diplomatic discussions or decisions by the President and Prime Minister remained undisclosed—and probably will stay state secrets until they are accomplished facts—immediate action was taken to provide all possible assistance to Soviet Russia's "splendid defense against Nazi attack."

Maximum of Aid

In a message to Josef Stalin, the President and the Prime Minister proposed an Anglo-American-Soviet conference in Moscow to discuss providing the Red Army with "the very maximum of supplies that you most urgently need."

Stalin acquiesced quickly to the plan. He told the United States and British ambassadors in Moscow today that he is ready to "take all necessary steps" for the conference.

Lord Beaverbrook, Minister of Supply (for Britain) and either Harry Hopkins, Lend-Lease Administrator, or W. Averell Harriman, Lend-Lease Expediter, for the United States, were groomed as the "high representatives" Roosevelt and Churchill proposed to send to Moscow.

Motorists Will Economize On Gas To Help Tourists

Gettysburg and Adams county motorists were called upon by the Gettysburg Motor Club and the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce to be as economical as possible in use of gasoline so that the supply available in Gettysburg and in the county will take care of not only local needs but also the requirements of the thousands of tourists who visit here.

In a statement released jointly by the two organizations, it was pointed out that local and county dealers will receive 90 per cent of their July deliveries and that if local and county motorists will properly maintain and operate their cars and drive at moderate speed there need be no fear on the part of tourists that they will become stranded here because of inability to secure gasoline.

The appeal of the two organizations met with ready acquiescence locally and throughout the county.

While other communities in Pennsylvania and in adjacent states are asking how tourist travel is to be taken care of in view of statements by oil concerns that service stations will likely favor their regular trade over the transient customer, Gettysburg service stations were quick to respond to the call of the motor club and Chamber of Commerce.

EXPECT BETTER ARMY MORALE AS DANGERS MOUNT

Washington, Aug. 16 (AP).—Military authorities asserted today that when the nation's citizen soldiers become fully aware of the dangers confronting the United States in an armed and fighting world, problems of morale will be dissipated in a general wave of enthusiasm for defense preparations.

An effort to impress upon the troops the nearness and gravity of such dangers was described as the purpose behind Secretary Stimson's unusual broadcast to the Army last night in which he told the men they were being trained to fight "on any of the many and varied terrains which surround our country from which an attack may come."

Basing his speech on congressional enactment this week of the 18-months service extension bill, Stimson said he realized that additional time in uniform meant sacrifices for the soldiers but he added "that out of your devotion there is being created the most effective fighting force which this country has ever known in time of peace."

The Secretary of War declared there were many points at which German or Japanese forces—which he described as composed of veteran troops of professional efficiency—might attack the United States. In this connection he mentioned bases in both the Atlantic and Pacific and continued:

"The present attack of Germany on Russia, who has always been a peaceful neighbor of ours in the Pacific, now brings out into sharp prominence the importance of (Alaskan and Aleutian island) outposts. Japanese newspapers are already beginning to tell us the trouble we may expect to have in Alaska if Germany conquers Russia."

But the "Most dangerous avenue of attack," Stimson declared, is through South or Central America, and he made it clear that in his opinion this danger would be increased extremely if the Nazis should move into Dakar, French West Africa port opposite Brazil, as a result of Vichy's policy of collaborating with Germany.

Spread By Contact

York, Pa., Aug. 16 (AP).—Continued spread of York county's infantile paralysis outbreak today brought a warning from the state Health department that the malady was spread by contact and the only preventative measure "worth mentioning" was to keep children away from crowded areas.

Six new cases in this vicinity brought the total to 44 with four deaths while a "second focus of infection but much less serious" was reported in Schuylkill county. There are three cases in adjoining Lancaster county.

Dr. A. H. Stewart, acting state Secretary of Health, said at Harrisburg that at least 57 cases of the disease had developed in 23 counties within the past month and that there had been 90 cases since January.

His list up to August 8, showed 31 cases in York county, 10 in Philadelphia, 11 in Schuylkill, six in Dauphin, three in Allegheny and one or two in the other counties experiencing the malady.

Increase In Summer

"At midsummer there is always an increase in the number of cases," said Dr. Stewart. "This increase continues from week to week until a peak is reached, commonly in September with a return to normal in November or December."

"Such epidemic as exists is confined to York county, with Schuylkill as a second focus of infection but much less serious. The number of cases in these two counties can be expected to be abnormally large in the next several weeks."

Pointing out the disease was caused by virus which probably enters the body through the nose, Dr. Stewart emphasized. Health authorities were without any direct means of controlling spread of the disease except through the application of quarantines of known cases.

Affects Schools

Continuing a strict ban on gatherings of persons under 21, authorities decided to keep schools closed until September 15. York high school and York Catholic high school squads will not be permitted to practice until that date or until the ban is lifted. Athletic officials said it might be necessary to cancel some September games because the teams would not be in condition.

The city of Shamokin reported two deaths from the malady in the past 10 days, a girl of 12 and a woman of 22, both residents of adjacent Coal township. A nine-year-old boy, stricken during the week, was removed to a hospital at Danville. Dr. O. E. Salter, Northumberland county health officer, said there was another case in Rockefeller township.

PRACTICALLY A CITIZEN

Philadelphia, Aug. 16 (AP).—Summoned into court for failing to register under the Alien Registration Act, Anthony Sabella, 46, said he didn't see any necessity for registering because he was "practically a citizen."

He explained he'd obtained his first papers and planned to get his second papers soon. U. S. Commissioner Norman J. Griffin explained the difference between "practically" and "actually" then discharged Sabella with instructions to register.

Venezuelian Hurler, Worry Of Senators, Stops Red Sox With Eight Safeties

INDIANS DROP ANOTHER TILT TO WHITE SOX

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

One of the strangest stories of the present baseball season stars Senor Alejandro Carrasquel, the Caballero from Caracas, Venezuela.

He is the righthanded pitcher for the Washington Senators whom some sports writers sought to have change his name to Alex Alexander a year ago, only to encounter diplomatic opposition.

The way he pitched last season it didn't make a great deal of difference what his name was, so the writers let it go at that.

When spring training began he still was in Venezuela, or on the high seas, or somewhere and white-haired Clark Griffith squandered half his scouting budget on cable, wireless and telegraph tolls scouting for his Alex.

"Out of Condition"

Eventually Carrasquel landed at Miami, Fla., and was detained by the immigration authorities until Griffith convinced them he wouldn't become a public dependent. Griff finally got Alex into camp, only to have Manager Bucky Harris scream at his being out of condition.

This prelude is by way of breaking, as gently as possible, the news that today Carrasquel is the only undefeated pitcher in the American league. He has scored six victories.

Carrasquel got into many games, some of them tussles that Washington had a chance of winning, and he got credit for a couple of his triumphs by the tides of fortune that go with relief pitching. But he didn't get a chance to start a contest until August 5.

Including that one he has started three encounters, finished all of them and won all of them—beating the third-place Boston Red Sox yesterday, 6-3, by scattering eight hits in the seven innings before rain halted play.

Boston's defeat helped entangle the teams trailing the New York Yankees in the first division because the Chicago White Sox came along in a night tilt and conquered the Cleveland Indians, 5-2, to climb within a half-game of third place and within two games of second place.

The St. Louis Browns downed the Detroit Tigers, 6-1, in another night engagement. Each team was limited to six hits, but Rookie Bob Muncrief of the Browns kept his so scattered that the Tigers' only tally was a homer by Bruce Campbell.

Rain kept the Yankees idle and curtailed the National league program to a game in which the Cincinnati Reds stopped the Chicago Cubs, 3-1, for Johnny Vander Meer's 21th victory.

Vandy pitched six-hit ball, which was one more blow than his teammates made off Rookie Vallee Eaves, but he fanned eight men and allowed no runs except Lou Stringer's homer in the first inning. Frank McCormick and Jim Gleason contributed circuit smashes for Cincinnati.

11 TEAMS IN SOFTBALL MEET

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 16 (AP)—Eleven of Pennsylvania's best softball teams brought their title hopes to Williamsport today with only one thing certain—the state crown is going to change hands.

The Hamilton Watch team of Lancaster, which won the championship last year, is not eligible to compete in this year's playoffs, leaving the field wide open.

High in the list of favorites was the Carpenter Steel team of Reading, District 2 winner and state champion in 1939, with Bethlehem Steel, District 3 titlist, also well regarded.

The opening game in the two-day tournament pitted Reading against St. Mary's, winner of the District 8 crown. The championship will be decided Sunday and immediately afterwards the Kauffman Mads, of Reading, and a team from Mexico—near Lewistown—will meet for the state girls' title.

Charles E. Steiger, president of the state Softball Association, announced these pairings:

8:30 a. m.—Reading (District 2) vs. St. Mary's (District 8).
10 a. m.—District 6 vs. District 11; Greensburg (District 14) vs. Orefield (District 1).
Second round:
11:30 a. m.—Erie (western) Reading vs. Dubois (District 10); Reading-St. Mary's winner vs. District 3.
1 p. m.—Bethlehem Steel (host team) vs. District 6—District 11 winner; Wellsboro (District 5) vs. Greensburg-Orefield winner.

The semi-finals were scheduled for 2:30 and 4 p. m.

Co-Captains Named For Lafayette "11"

Easton, Pa., Aug. 16 (AP)—For the first time in 60 years of football, Lafayette College has co-captains elected before the start of the season.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Aug. 15 (AP)—The lowdown on all the beatings the Dodgers have suffered lately is that other clubs have been switching signals on 'em but the Brooks went right on swiping the old ones.

That's what happened when the Braves' Dick Erickson nicked three. Catcher Ray Berres continued to give his old signs but it was Erickson who was signalling what he would throw.

Dick Bartel says the biggest change he noticed after a year's absence from the National League was that almost every pitcher had picked up an extra pitch.

Southern golfers are hollering that the 340-yard hole-in-one that William A. Greene made at Rye (New York) the other day would be just a putt down in their part of the country.

A fellow named Cardwell sank a 425-yard ace at Winston-Salem, North Carolina, a few years back.

When Lou Nova checked in at Doc Dier's training camp, Abe Simon packed up and left because "he didn't want to train with somebody who was so recently an invalid."

Words is words—

To make it tougher on sports writers, who were just learning to call him "the eminent oologist," Dick Harlow, the Harvard coach, has switched his hobby from birds' eggs to ferns, so now he's a pteridologist.

Eddie Walker, the fight manager, lays 'em in the aisles with a story about how he took Henry Armstrong to London when Henry's hands were so sore he had to take violent (correct) ray treatments every day.

And Gen. Phelan, the boxing commissar head, protested to a local columnist: "I don't speak double talk. I don't even understand it."

Today's guest star—

B. M. Atkinson, Jr., Louisville Times: "Let them keep putting weight on 'Whirly' and Ben Jones won't have jockey worries. He'll ride the horse himself."

Correspondents' corner—

Paul C. Thole of Evansville, Indiana, wants to know if Bill McGannon of Notre Dame is the first player who failed to win a varsity letter but was good enough to make the grade for the Chicago all-star game.

Bob Madry, the North Carolina University tub-thumper, advocates an all-America squad of 44 players, listed alphabetically, instead of picking one guy for each position, which sounds like a big-hearted suggestion from a guy whose school has produced two all-American players in successive years.

J. C. Marrow of Galveston, Texas, thinks major league scouts are overlooking a bet in not signing up Pete Layden, the Texas University footballer who is knocking the cover off the ball for a Waco semi-pro club.

Clarence Rothman of Manitowoc, Wisconsin, reports Cecil Isbell of the Packers has opened a water softener service there. . . . Just an old softy.

One-minute interview—

Bill Terry: "I was a good, young ball player and McGraw didn't teach me a thing. Sure, he bawled me out when I did something wrong, but the man who made me a good ball player was Roger Bresnahan, McGraw's coach."

Service Dept.—

Clair Bee has invited all morale officers of Army and Navy bases to attend his eastern coaching school at Manhattan Beach without charge.

Australian troops stationed in Equatorial Africa have sent out an appeal for sports equipment. They're especially interested in baseball. . . . The same day that guy fell off the fence trying to climb into Ebbets field, a soldier at Fort Slocum which is on an island in Long Island Sound, went A. W. O. L., paddled a raft a mile and a half to the mainland and hitch-hiked to Brooklyn to see the Dodgers. . . . He may see them again about World Series time, but not before.

CANCELS GRID TILT

Pittsburgh, Aug. 16 (AP)—Tulsa (Okla.) University has cancelled its football game with Duquesne, which had been scheduled at Pittsburgh, October 3. Aldo (Buff) Donelli, Athletic Director and head grid coach at Duquesne, said Tulsa gave no reason for the cancellation beyond that it could not carry out the contract.

Arizona's 50,000 Indians are divided into 14 tribes, each with its own social, economic and cultural background.

SHIFT LOONEY TO BACKFIELD BY COACH BELL

Hershey, Pa., Aug. 16 (AP)—Professional football's champion pass snagging end, elusive Don Looney from Texas Christian University, is being revamped into a halfback to sharpen the offense of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Bert Bell, coach and co-owner of the National Professional League eleven disclosed the move today and commented:

"We're not hurting ourselves defensively, and we're bettering ourselves offensively. The shift will give Looney a chance to use his ball carrying ability and at the same time free him of the shock damage on the line of scrimmage."

The shifty Texan who teamed with little Davey O'Brien last year to set a new passing mark for pro gridgers approved the change.

"It will give me a better chance to get loose," he declared.

"Floating" Wingback

Bell said he will use Looney as the "floating" wingback in the flanker formation which he believes will add deception to the Steeler attack this season.

He pointed out Looney is faster than the ordinary linemen, has a fine change of pace and is adept at feinting the opposition out of position.

As the "floater" Looney will play well outside the end and about a yard and a half behind the scrimmage line on offense.

Bell's strategy calls for the flanker to start before the ball is snapped so as to be available to carry the leather, veer off for a pass in the block, as the play demands.

"He is certainly in a better position this way than being held on the line of scrimmage," Bell asserted. "In addition, by using Looney in this spot, it also gives us a chance to use George Platukis, the former Duquesne star and a good end in the lineup at the same time."

Bell said the Texan may play in the safety spot, adding:

"He's a good punt receiver, and his speed and elusiveness should make him a good safety."

2 Entries In Gold Cup Speedboat Race Today

Red Bank, N. J., Aug. 16 (AP)—The slimmest gold cup field since 1936 was in prospect today with only two entries listed as certain for the 38th running of the top-ranking National Speedboat classic.

But the powerful speedsters overshadowed a record entry for the other classes in the 12th annual National Sweepstakes Regatta on picturesque North Shrewsbury River. The 1939 winner, My Sin, owned by Zalmon G. Simmens, Jr., of Greenwich, Connecticut, and Why Worry, owned by William Cantrill of Louisville, Kentucky, were the gold-cuppers the tournament committee expected to have in the three 30-mile heats today.

It was the smallest entry since Kaye Don drove Horace Dodge's Impshi around Lake George all by himself in 1936. The two-boat field contrasted sharply with other divisions which drew approximately 300 entries that included 225, 135 and 91 cub inch hydroplanes, all classes of outboards and other small fry.

Army Pleased With Air Corps Recruits

Indiantown Gap, Pa., Aug. 16 (AP)—Only 28 short of their quota of 300, officers of the U. S. Army's 28th division expressed satisfaction today at the rate of enlistments in the air branch of the service.

At the same time, Captain Henry Matthews, post personnel adjutant and recruiting officer, said he expected more enlistments now that Congress has agreed to extend military service for another 18 months.

Announcing that 40 air corps recruits were enroute to Jefferson barracks, near St. Louis, Mo., to join 68 who left Indiantown Gap last Wednesday, Capt. Matthews said 470 volunteers had been examined to date. Of these, he said, 92 were rejected for physical reasons, and approximately 60 others—under age—were being held up pending parental consent.

"The recruiting campaign has been progressing satisfactorily," Capt. Matthews said. "All personnel officers of the 28th division have been cooperating for the success of the drive."

VAN ZANDT TO NAVY

Washington, Aug. 16 (AP)—Republican Representative James E. Van Zandt of Altoona, Pa., is going to report to the Navy in the next few days for temporary active duty while the house is on a schedule of three-day recesses.

A lieutenant, senior grade, in the United States Naval reserve, the lawmaker said he was directed to report to San Diego, California, for a week's duty at the Naval training station and then would go to Pearl Harbor, Honolulu.

Highest temperature recorded in the United States was 134 degrees at Death Valley, July 10, 1913.

Helen Sigel Wins Shawnee Golf Title

Shawnee-On-Delaware, Pa., Aug. 16 (AP)—Dorothy Germain of Philadelphia, beat out fellow towns-woman Helen Sigel for medalist honors in the Shawnee woman's golf tournament but Miss Sigel got the better of the argument before it was over.

She got her revenge yesterday by scoring a brilliant 4 and 3 triumph over the medalist to win the tourney. The new champ jumped into an early lead in the finals and never relinquished it. She had ousted Mrs. S. Bornstein, Shawnee, 7 and 6, in the semi-finals while Miss Germain was vanquishing Mrs. Philip Hettlerman, New York, five and four.

WHIRLAWAY IS "CINCH" TO WIN TRAVERS STAKES

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 16 (AP)—No matter how you looked at it, Whirlaway appeared a cinch today to pick up a bundle of cash faster than Joe Louis makes it.

The dowagers and the dandies around this fashionable spa tried to tell you differently. They wanted to tell you the argument that mud—goosey mud—was on tap for the 72nd running of America's oldest horse race, the Travers Stakes. They pointed out that "it's Jim Dandy's kind of a track"—the same sort of mud in which Jim Dandy upset the great Galant Fox in this same stake 11 years ago.

But when you added it all up—mud, Jim Dandy and Saratoga tradition—there was no way you could see that Sam Riddle's Lord Kitchener or William DuPont's Fairymant, son of Man O'War, had the stuff to whip Warren Wright's Kentucky flier. These were the only other entries in the classic mile-and-a-quarter and, as a result, the blue grass bullet figured to go postward at something near the legal minimum of 1 to 20.

Whirly is packing 130 to 112 for the others this time but he's given away pounds before and never suffered for it.

Alf Robertson, the smart Scot, will be aboard him in this race as he was in the Saranac handicap, which Whirly just managed to take a week or so ago.

It looks like a crowd of 15,000 or more is going to see Blenheim's-boy come charging home to win about $20,000. This would boost his earnings over the $275,000 mark for his career.

McCoy Deferred In Draft Service

Philadelphia, Aug. 16 (AP)—Benjamin McCoy won't have to join the Army after all.

Word from his draft board at Grand Rapids, Michigan, is that Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey has placed the Athletics' second baseman in Class 3-A, exempting him from military service at present.

Appealing to President Roosevelt after the board placed him in Class 1-A, McCoy claimed he had four dependents to support. Local authorities had held he could provide for them with savings from a $45,000 bonus the player got as a free agent for signing with the Macks.

Benny won out in his plea for deferment on grounds the Selective Service Act didn't propose that registrants should be forced to use their savings to support dependents.

Seven Teams In Legion Tournament

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 16 (AP)—With only seven teams surviving out of 1,143 original entries, the state American Legion Baseball Tournament goes into the semi-finals next week.

Opponents in the current pairings are Erie vs. Tarentum, Lewis-town vs. Clearfield and Bethlehem vs. West Chester. Lebanon, which bounced out South Williamsport, will meet the winner of the Bethlehem-West Chester three-game series.

George Bellis, Pennsylvania Legion Athletic Chairman who is attending the Legion's convention here, said the semi-finals would be completed next week and the championship finals will be held August 25-30.

Sammy Sneed Leads In Rochester Golf

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 16 (AP)—Slamming Sammy Sneed led a score of the nation's top golfers into the second round of the $5,000 Times Union open today as one of them rejoiced that he was still in the competition.

Sneed's opening round 67, three under par, gave him the early lead but blazing Ben Hogan's feat in sticking close by the rest of the entrants after taking a seven and a six on a pair of par four holes had the fans talking.

Hogan started yesterday's round by punching his second shot into a trap. Then Blazing Ben, who has averaged 70.33 strokes per round for 65 rounds of competitive golf this year, took three more to get onto the green. Two putts and he had his seven.

From then on Hogan blazed his way around the course. He shot the next sixteen holes in three under par figures but slipped badly to a six on the 18th for his first round 72 and a place well down on the list of first-day leaders.

Two strokes behind Sneed in second place was Frank Commisso, professional at nearby Irondequoit. Craig Wood, the national open champion, shared third spot with Augie Nordone, Syracuse, with 70s.

Ted Kroll, Ky Laffoon, Horton Smith, Denny Shute, Gene Kunes and Ray Mangrum had one-over par 71s to remain within striking distance of the leaders.

The field plays its second 18-hole qualifying round today with the leaders finishing over the 36-hole route tomorrow.

Eastern League Games Washed Out

[By the Associated Press]

Rain washed out the Eastern League program last night, forcing a halt at least temporarily in Williamsport's drive to overtake the league leading Wilkes-Barre Barons.

Three doubleheaders were arranged today with the second place Williamsport club taking on Springfield in one of them. The Pennsylvanians copped a twin bill from Hartford in their last time out, gaining a half-game on the leaders. The first two clubs now are separated by .024 percentage points.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

THE COMPANIONABLE COMPANION

WHAT a treat it is to meet someone to whom you do not feel obligated to explain yourself. Someone, somehow, akin to you in mind, spirit, and understanding. In other words, the companionable human being.

If such a person comes to visit you no entertaining is necessary. He entertains himself, thereby putting you, as his host, in his debt. Between you both there is a perfect meeting ground. In conversation, if there are differences of opinion, they are honest ones and are thus appraised.

If there is no call for extensive talk there is then that delightful period of silent communication that has a mutuality about it. There is restfulness in the presence of such a one. There is happy silent communication.

We know these companionable people. We can take long journeys with them. We are not lonely with them in our homes, on trains, or as guests on vacation periods. Often we meet them as strangers—but they do not remain strangers for long. They do not argue. They are not vindictive. They are tolerant. You feel relaxed with them near.

There is such a thing as secret understanding, secret love, and secret respect. Each a complement of the other.

Companionship is essential to one's well-being. Even in nature this is true. You find flowers of their kind together and animals of their kind together. And where there are many of the latter you find them in a group.

You feel safe in the friendship of a companionable companion. You know that any confidence is sacred. You can open your heart and your mind to such a one. You drink from their mind as from a spring, and are refreshed.

Just Folks

QUESTION

In this mad world of hate and strife, Of war in sky and earth and sea, One wonders if God's gift of life By men must always be ruined. By men must forever fill the years With warfare's "sweat and blood and tears."

Here in a land where lilies blow And tropic palm and northern pine,

Where the four seasons come and go

And good is the supreme design, Men into bitter quarrels fall From time to time and spoil it all!

Men oft declare themselves to be God's greatest handiwork, and tell Their mastery of land and sea,

And point to skills they use so well;

But thinking of the wars they start I wonder does God think them smart?

Berlin, Aug. 10.—The attempt of Right opposition and Communist forces to dissolve the Prussian Diet by a plebiscite failed Sunday by more than 3,500,000 votes and thus the combined onslaught on the regime of Chancellor Bruening on the principle that he who controls Prussia controls Germany—was definitely turned back at the polls.

Choice Between War And Peace Lies With Japan

ECONOMIC BAN HURTING JAPS IN WAR GAME

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(By the Associated Press)

Domel, official Japanese news agency, declares that joint military action against Japan was one of the topics discussed by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill in their historic rendezvous on the sea.

No one is likely to dispute this probability. It takes no unusual degree of perspicacity to recognize that the two statesmen must have explored all contingencies in connection with this grave far eastern crisis. Joint military action certainly is one of the possibilities.

Pressure Is Great

How great the pressure may be for such military intervention is a secret buried in the minds of the conferees. However, there has been no indication that either Uncle Sam or John Bull intends to reach for his shooting irons unless Nippon makes another threatening move.

If this does indeed represent the position, then obviously the choice between war and peace lies with the Japanese. Will they hazard further operations which might precipitate war? That is the paramount question which is being debated with heart burnings and anxiety in their councils of state.

The Japanese decision is a tough one to make because they have maneuvered themselves into the unhappy position of being damned if they do and damned if they don't. Their situation is somewhat similar (though lacking the finality) to that represented in a little item I noted in Georgia News some years ago. This read:

"George Washington Brown today crawled out on a limb and saved it off between himself and the tree. The coroner said death was accidental."

Japan Hard Hit

Japan's occupation of French Indo-China has resulted in American and British economic sanctions which are hitting Nippon terribly hard, and the pressure must increase with each passing day. Thus if the Japanese sit tight and don't make any further move in their expansion program they still will be pinched for essential supplies, including those vital to the prosecution of war, for which they long have depended on America and Britain. And they will suffer grievous financial loss through the stoppage of their silk trade and other exports to America and Britain.

No. 205--Jacob (5) and Mary (McConaughty) Cassat

By B. F. MCPHERSON

Today we hope to conclude our notes on the Cassat, or Cassat, family. As you may recall we ended our column for last week by giving a short description of Jacob (5) Cassat, the son of David (4) and Sarah (Van Duyn) Cassat. Said Jacob (5) Cassat and his wife are buried in Great Conewago Presbyterian Churchyard and the inscription from the stone marking their graves is as follows:

"In Memory of

Jacob Cassat, Esqr.,

Who died Decr. 26th

Aged 60 years.

Also Mary, his wife

Born July 3, 1777.

Died September 17, 1863.

Aged 86 years."

Buried beside them we find the grave of their only son. The inscription from the stone marking his grave follows:

"David Cassat

Son of Jacob and Mary.

Died September 18th in the year

1825.

Aged 8 years."

Hannah Finley (6) Cassat, the second daughter of Jacob (5) and Mary Cassat, was married on November 18, 1829 to Captain John Neely, a cousin of the Colonel James Neely who had married her older sister, Sarah (6) Cassat. Captain John and Hannah (Cassat) Neely were the parents of the following children:

1. Jonathan Weems (7) Neely—born September 20, 1830—died March 21, 1890. Married 1st February 15, 1853 to Margaret E. Weaver (born March 20, 1834—died July 25, 1854)—married for the second time after the death of his first time to Laura E. —? who was born September 10, 1843 and died November 24, 1899.

2. David Cassat (7) Neely—born November 17, 1832—died July 19, 1834.

3. Jacob (7) Neely—born July 17, 1835—died September 8, 1911—married first on February 13, 1866 to Eliza Lyle Day who was born March 20, 1840 and died May 28, 1890. Jacob married for the second time on August 29, 1899 to Mary Alice Moul who was born September 22, 1865 and died —?

Phila. To Get U. S. Signal Corps Depot

Philadelphia, Aug. 16 (AP)—A vital branch of the federal armed services employing 1,500 persons in the annual handling of $180,000,000 worth of defense material is coming to Philadelphia.

It is the principal depot and permanent home of the U. S. Signal Corps. It will be the largest of its kind in the country and will rank in importance with the Navy Yard, the Quartermaster's Depot and Frankford Arsenal here.

To house the industry, the government took the first step in acquisition of a plant of the A. Atwater Kent Manufacturing company. A petition was filed in federal court to condemn the plant and its 24-acre tract.

Meanwhile in Washington, Senator Joseph P. Guffey, Pennsylvania democrat, announced a storage depot costing $5,044,600 would be constructed by the War department at Marietta, Pa. It is to include six warehouses and 2,000,000 square feet of storage space for durable goods.

Legless Flier To Get Another Pair

London, Aug. 16 (AP)—Legless RAF Wing Commander Douglas R. Bader, recently reported forced down in German-occupied territory, may get a new set of metal legs from London.

It was said unofficially last night that the Germans had offered through the International Red Cross to permit an RAF plane to fly unmolested across the English Channel to drop a pair of artificial legs by parachute.

The legless Bader was wearing when he went down were reported broken.

SUCCESS AT A PRICE

Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 16 (AP)—John R. Cosgrove got in the Army air corps but he had to practically give up eating and sleeping.

Seven pounds overweight, the youth went on a fruit and vegetable diet to correct that defect. To make up for lack of college work he borrowed books from his former high school teachers and crammed every night for 14 weeks before taking examinations which are acceptable in place of college work.

He was accepted yesterday.

ARREST BURGLARY SUSPECT

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 16 (AP)—The arrest of 27-year-old Frank P. Luzzi may solve between 80 and 90 burglaries in central Pennsylvania in the last two years, said Private M. L. Woodring of the state police.

He added $2,000 worth of merchandise, auto and radio accessories was found in the home Luzzi occupied along the Susquehanna river at Northumberland.

NAZIS CLAIM 8-WEEK DRIVE MOVES ON PLAN

Berlin, Aug. 16 (AP)—Adolf Hitler declared through his high command today that the whole offensive against Russia was moving "successfully according to plan."

As the Nazi and allied armies rounded out the eighth week of the march to the east, the German press lacking specific information fell back to speculating on military problems facing both sides.

Whether Soviet Marshal Semeon Budennyi could form a Dnieper river defense in time to check the Nazi sweep in the Ukraine, now threatening that territory's coal and mineral belt, was a favored subject.

Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung declared "it is only natural to expect Marshal Budennyi will try to erect a new front line to protect the Donets Basin," but military reporters said the Luftwaffe was making the withdrawal of Russian forces across the broad Dnieper an exceedingly tough problem for the Red commander.

Russian Warship Damaged

Further complicating the Russian withdrawal, these writers pointed out, was the predicament of Red forces reported cut off at the Black Sea ports of Odessa and Nikolaev. Military dispatches said still other Russian units encircled west of the Dnieper bend were being broken up methodically.

German writers said that, if the Russians attempted large-scale evacuation of forces from Odessa and Nikolaev by sea, a new test of warship versus warplane would result.

The Germans declared their bombers already had damaged one Russian destroyer in waters near Odessa. They said information available in Berlin indicated the Red navy's strength in the Black Sea included one battleship, one airplane carrier, one heavy cruiser, three light cruisers, two torpedo-carrying cruisers, five destroyers and 30 submarines.

Berlin had another air-raid alarm last night, attributed to Russian planes. A communique also said "a limited number of Soviet bombers last night attempted to attack the northeastern and eastern part of the Reich," but added "the attempt was unsuccessful."

STALIN AGREES TO PARLEY WITH U. S. AND BRITISH

Moscow, Aug. 16 (AP) — Premier Joseph Stalin agreed today to a United States-British-Russian conference for joint opposition to Nazi Germany and the exchange of messages with British and American envoys implied a complete pooling of resources of the three powers.

The conference proposal was conveyed to the Russian leader yesterday in a joint personal message from President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill, delivered by the American and British ambassadors, Sir Stafford Cripps and Laurence A. Steinhardt.

One phrase out of the exchange of invitation and acceptance described one proposed subject of the conference as "distribution of raw materials and arms."

Stalin told the ambassadors he was ready to "take all necessary steps" for the conference.

Stalin received the ambassadors at the Kremlin, where they delivered to him a joint note from Roosevelt and Churchill.

Maximum Aid Offered

The premier expressed to them the thanks of the Soviet government for the offer of "maximum aid" contained in the note and said he would expedite arrangements for the proposed conversations.

Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov was present at the conference.

Pravda, organ of the Communist party, called the Roosevelt-Churchill accord a strengthening of the world front against Hitler.

Pravda pointed out that United States assistance to Britain "was not and is not restricted to armaments. Such measures as extensive patrol activities by American warships and the dispatch of American troops to Iceland have, to a considerable extent, assisted Britain in solution of problems connected with the Battle of the Atlantic."

"In this war of liberation we shall not be alone. In this great war we shall have loyal allies in the peoples of Europe and America, including the German people who are enslaved by the Hitlerite despots. Our war for freedom will merge with the struggle of the peoples of Europe and America for their independence, for democratic liberties."

The Soviet naval base at Kronstadt, 20 miles off Leningrad, has three harbor basins, one of them capable of holding 1,000 merchant ships.

Installment Credit Will Be Controlled

Washington, Aug. 16 (AP)—Close regulation of installment credit to provide for bigger down payments and an 18-month limit on installment contracts was considered today by the Federal Reserve Board in a move to block inflation.

The powerful board, armed with an executive order based on credit restriction powers carried over from World War days, yesterday made proposals intended for purposes of discussion. But the proposals carried the suggestion of high authority.

"It is proposed," said Marriner S. Eccles, board chairman, "in the initial regulations covering only a limited number of articles and applying only moderate terms, to lay a basis for such subsequent coverage and adjustment of terms as experience in this field and economic development may indicate to be necessary."

LIQUOR BOARD BOOSTS PAY OF 262 EMPLOYEES

Harrisburg, Aug. 26 (AP)—A new salary system which will immediately increase the pay of 262 employees has been approved by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, operator of an $80,000,000 a year monopoly.

The system—put into effect as of August 1—changed compensation for employees in state liquor stores to a bottle sales basis instead of the dollar volume previously used.

"The new method," said the board "will create a logical and accurate unit of measurement of work and responsibility which fluctuates with the volume of work performed and conforms to the principle of equal pay for equal work and responsibility."

Embodying suggestions made by a committee of liquor store employees appointed last year by the board, the new scale will provide salaries ranging from a minimum of $1,380 a year in small rural areas to a $2,700 minimum in large metropolitan stores for managers.

For clerks the rate will range from $1,380 to $1,620, depending upon their duties and responsibilities. Salaries of managers and head clerks will be adjusted annually on the basis of average bottle sales for the previous two-year period.

No Pay Cuts

The board said there would be no pay cuts.

Governor James recently vetoed a bill passed by the 1941 Legislature to give liquor store employees a flat salary increase, declaring their pay was equal to that of employees in department stores who did similar work.

As reclassified there will be in the state stores system:

Twelve managers at a minimum of $2,700; 27 managers at a minimum of $2,400; 69 managers at a minimum of $2,100; 207 managers at a minimum of $1,860; 181 managers and head clerks at a minimum of $1,620; 215 managers and head clerks at a minimum of $1,500; 366 managers and head clerks at a minimum of $1,380; approximately 1150 clerks at a minimum of $1,200.

These immediate increases were disclosed:

Fifteen employees from $1,200 to $1,380 per year; one employee from $1,200 to $1,500 per year; 159 employees from $1,380 to $1,500 per year; 20 employees from $1,380 to $1,620 per year; 28 employees from $1,500 to $1,620 per year; 18 employees from $1,620 to $1,860 per year; one employee from $1,860 to $2,100 per year; 10 employees from $2,100 to $2,400 per year; nine employees from $2,400 to $2,700 per year.

Sam Barry Will Coach Southern Cal.

Los Angeles, Aug. 16 (AP) — Southern California's football fortunes, guided by an all-Trojan coaching staff, will be plotted along much the same course mapped by the late Howard Jones.

Sam Barry, officially named to take over the head coaching job, made this clear as he dug into the preliminaries of moulding a Trojan grid machine for the 1941 battles.

"I'll have to familiarize myself with some of the new talent coming up to the Varsity, and adjust our style of play to existing conditions," Barry said.

Dr. Rufus B. Von KleinSmid announced Barry's appointment yesterday. It was a customary one year agreement. Terms were not divulged, but it was believed Barry will receive between $7,000 and $10,000. Jones was said to have received between $12,000 and $15,000 a year.

REDS FAIL TO MENTION AREAS UNDER ATTACK

Moscow, Aug. 16 (AP)—For the fourth time since Germany's war machine crashed into Soviet Russia eight weeks ago, a Red Army communique failed today to mention specific sectors of the war and said only that during the night "our troops continued to fight with the enemy on the entire front."

(An authoritative source in London said that the Russians apparently are withdrawing steadily to points behind the Dnieper River but the situation "would appear quite cheerful.")

It was the second consecutive bulletin to omit names of fighting fronts. An earlier communique today indicated the Nazis were putting heavy pressure on the Leningrad and Ukraine flanks.

German planes flying against Moscow late last night were reported dispersed before reaching the city.

The earlier communique told of increasing parachute attacks behind the Red Army lines in the Ukraine, but the Russians declared they were mopping up the air troops as quickly as they landed.

The Russians reported yesterday that the forward drive by the Germans which took the Ukraine cities of

Conference In Moscow On "Long Term Policy" Hints "Prolonged War"

London, Aug. 16 (AP)—The request by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill for a three-power conference with Russia was taken today as a sign that the United States and Britain consider Russia far from beaten.

Although the Soviet army was reported retreating before a fierce German offensive in the Ukraine, war commentators emphasized that the message to Premier Joseph Stalin referred to "consideration of a long-term policy," apparently indicating expectation that the war would last a long time.

At the same time the fact that the two nations pledged Russia "the very maximum of supplies" brought a new crop of rumors that Britain would land troops in the cold northern wastes of Russia to keep open the important Arctic supply line. Supplies from Britain and America

Editor,
The Gettysburg Times,
Dear Sir:
I am glad to work for Uncle Sam and mostly because it is in the Navy. This outfit is composed almost entirely of intelligent boys with an eye for advancement. The Navy offers plenty—trade, adventure, travel and a fine education are primary in the list.

I've had my share of all except travel. I've been at only four naval bases in one year. Next stop, I hope, is South America and then Honolulu and Norway and Virgin Island. Oh yes, Panama, Alaska and—I quit. There is too many of them.

The Navy offers fine courses in 25 to 30 different trades. In November I was sent to Norfolk, Virginia, for 16-weeks schooling in that course. From there I was transferred to this base as a seaman second class, with a little studying and hard work I was promoted to seaman first class. And on July 16 when I had my first year completed, which is the required time. I took the examination for Petty Officer.

On August 1st a notice was placed on the bulletin board that I was promoted to Petty Officer, third class, in aviation machinist mate rating (AMM3C). That proved to me that the Navy is as good as its word and as powerful as each sailor who aims to return a favor from it. So long.

RUSSIANS TAKE UP POSITIONS ON DNEIPER RIVER

(By The Associated Press)
The Red army, fighting a bitter rear-guard action in the Ukraine, was described today as making a comparatively ordered withdrawal for a stand on the east bank of the Dnieper river, a major tactical obstacle to the Germans, as the Nazi invasion of Russia rounded out its eighth week.

An authoritative source in London, reporting this development, said the situation "on the whole would appear quite cheerful."

Both London and Washington interpreted the Roosevelt-Churchill proposal for a long-term aid program to the Soviets as indicating confidence that the Red army, however battered, was far from beaten.

Russia's premier Joseph Stalin quickly accepted the American-British proposal for an early conference in Moscow to work out the program of maximum aid.

Ukraine "Confused"
London sources said a heavy German attack on a narrow front west of Kiev had been "decimated" by the Russians, but admitted the entire Ukraine situation was extremely confused.

In the Smolensk central sector where fighting previously was heaviest, the Germans were pictured as digging in, with little intention of an immediate push.

In the far north, the Germans' Finnish allies told of capturing new points around Lake Ladoga, but Russian advices reported the Finns were being held.

The British-American pledge of supplies for the Russians stirred reports anew in London that the British might land troops in Russia's far north to help keep open the supply route via Murmansk and Archangel.

Word from high Japanese, German and neutral quarters in Shanghai was that Japan was getting ready for the possibility of attacking Russia in Siberia, in the next two or three weeks if at all this year.

German Claims
The German press questioned whether Soviet Marshal Semyon Budyenny would be able to form a new defense line along the Dnieper river in time to check a German drive eastward to the coal and mineral lands of the Donets basin, in the eastern Ukraine between the Dnieper and the Don.

The Germans said the Russian withdrawal by land was hampered by the encirclement of large Soviet forces west of the Dnieper bend, and by heavy bombing of rail lines. Any attempt to conduct large-scale evacuation of Soviet forces from Odessa and Nikolaev by sea, the Germans said, would result in another test of naval strength versus the Luftwaffe.

Both Moscow and Berlin had air-raid alarms during the night. Moscow reported all raiders beaten back before reaching the city. Berlin, attributing its raid to the Red air force, said only one Russian plane got through to the outskirts of the capital. The Germans said the Russians also attacked north-eastern and eastern Germany.

Farmers Organize To Protest Wheat Quota

Hershey, Pa., Aug. 16 (AP)—A militant Pennsylvania farm group has organized to make what a spokesman termed "widespread protest" to federal and state officials against the imposition of wheat quotas.

"Our next immediate move will be to send copies of protest resolutions to all Pennsylvania congressmen, senators and governors of this and other states," declared Ira C. Gross, secretary of the newly-formed Pennsylvania farmers' organization.

He estimated that 1800 wheat farmers from every section of the state joined in a mass meeting here yesterday where a permanent organization was formed with J. Audley Boak, New Castle, Lawrence county, as president.

Five Republican U. S. representatives attended the meeting to voice their protests against the new wheat regulations which place a 49-cent a bushel penalty on wheat grown in excess of a producer's AAA quota.

Other Officers
Besides Boak and Gross, the farmers named Chester H. Gross of Manchester, York county, vice president; Alvin Wissler, Lawn, Lancaster county, treasurer, and State Secretary of Agriculture John H. Light, Charles W. Voris, Milton, Northumberland county, and Edward Longenecker, Lancaster county, executive committee.

"I suggest you go back home and carry on this campaign among the people who believe in the freedom that made America great," Secretary Gross said at the conclusion of the four-hour meeting.

He added that the state organization would cooperate with, but not immediately affiliate with, a national organization which John Beath, Pennville, Ind., farmer, said was being organized.

"We're trying to get a national organization set up," Beath said. "We wish to call a national meeting at Indianapolis about the 15th of next month."

"We want you to know right now we're not for the program. We don't think it is legal."

Ask Repeal
In a resolution, the Pennsylvanians asked that "immediate steps be taken to repeal or make null and void 'the wheat amendment,' opposed by a majority of farmers in the state at a national referendum last May 31."

The resolution said: "We hold that the joint resolution of Congress, amending the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 is inconsistent, unjust, unsound and unconstitutional for the following reasons:

"(1) It is inconsistent with the President's appeal to the farmers on Aug. 12, 1941, to produce more food for defense.

"(2) It is unjust because the purported referendum was held May 31, 1941, when the wheat was ripe for the harvest and the penalties were made retroactive to include the wheat planted in 1941.

Penalty to Farmers
"(3) It is furthermore unjust because it has abridged the sanctity of private contracts. Many farmers have pledged the proceeds of the wheat crop for machinery, tax, fertilizer, etc., and the imposition of

NO DECISION ON NAVY 'RUNNING' BIG SHIP PLANT

(By The Associated Press)
A decision still was awaited today on whether the Navy would take over the mammoth Kearny, New Jersey, plant of the Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock Company—strike-bound for 10 days with $493,000,000 in vessel construction held up.

As L. H. Korndorff, president of the United States Steel Company's shipbuilding subsidiary, concluded a series of conferences with Navy officials yesterday, James B. Carey, CIO secretary, asserted that "the firm was engaged in a strike against the government."

Carey asked that before the government acted on Korndorff's request that the Navy take over the yards, there be a conference with management and union representatives, "so that there can be no misunderstanding in the future on the fundamental issues and policies involved."

Asks Navy to Take Plant
Korndorff offered to turn the yard over to the government rather than accept a defense mediation board recommendation that the firm sign a contract with the CIO's Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers requiring that members keep in good standing or lose their jobs. He said this was a closed shop proposal.

A two-day labor dispute at the Detroit plant of the Briggs Manufacturing Company was settled at a conference of management representatives and agents of the CIO United Automobile Workers. Some 250 employees in the press department had walked out because of the dismissal of a shop steward. The union officials said three stewards had been re-elected. The stoppage made thousands of auto plant workers idle, because they were dependent upon Briggs for parts.

Puerto Rico's sugar industry has more workers under collective bargaining than any other agricultural area in the world.

Legion Wants Service Objectors To Do Hard Work On Soldier's Pay

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 16 (AP)—Pennsylvania Legionnaires turned to final business matters of their convention today after adopting a resolution favoring extension of the soldier training period to 30 months. Delegates also urged that conscientious objectors be compelled to do manual labor for the same pay and serve the same time as Army selectees. In other resolutions the Legion:

Recommended that persons convicted of subversive activities lose their citizenship.

Urged that the proposed federal veterans hospital be located in the eastern geographical section of the state, accessible to the northwestern area, where there is a heavy veteran population.

To Meet In Pittsburgh
Called for a conference with the Veterans of Foreign Wars to establish a uniform date before which no poppies made by disabled veterans would be sold in May.

Pittsburgh was selected for the 1942 convention, over bids by Allentown and Wilkes-Barre.

The following three vice commanders were elected: Western District, Louis Nagy, Monongahela; Central District, Abraham Shelley, Steelton; Eastern District, Paul R. Sine, Perkasie. Father Michael J. McKeough of Philadelphia was elected chaplain.

The top business item scheduled for today was election of the Department Commander. The two nominees were I. G. Gordon Forster of Philadelphia, present state advocate, and William J. Rhoads of Rutledge, Delaware county, retiring eastern commander.

Payson, Arizona, was named for Louis Edwin Payson, representative in Congress from Illinois, who never visited the town.

Woodward Mourns For "Lost" Bills

Philadelphia, Aug. 16 (AP)—The democratic way of life is getting in State Senator George Woodward's hair.

The Senator, addicted to knickerbockers and the Pennsylvania Legislature, barely escaped a shutout at the hands of the 1941 General Assembly and appears pretty sick and tired of things, especially the 1941 session.

Woodward says he introduced 29 bills in this lamented sitting of the Commonwealth's law makers and now pauses to shed 28 tears. That's his way of saying only one bill got through even though the session of six and a half months was the longest since 1842.

So overcome is the Republican scion, re-elected five times since 1918, that he's pouring out his woes in a pamphlet entitled the Pennsylvania legislator—usually blue but now a dazzling white edged in dark black. Witty verbiage is embossed in Latin.

ROOSEVELT IS ON HIS WAY TO PORT IN MAINE

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Rockland, Me., Aug. 16 (AP)—President Roosevelt cruised toward this down-east fishing port today from an historic rendezvous at sea with Winston Churchill, and nations waited tensely for any further disclosures of how they hoped to assure "a better future for the world."

The Chief Executive was scheduled to put in here some time this afternoon, ending a 13-day mystery voyage which began as "a vacation" jaunt but produced an unprecedented meeting between the President and Prime Minister Churchill and a statement of their present objectives and post-war aims.

Yacht in Maine

The White House yacht Potomac, with Mr. Roosevelt aboard, was anchored last night off Deer Island, Maine. For the first time since he sailed away from the submarine base at New London, Connecticut, on August 3, the President had authorized the disclosure of his whereabouts.

Presidential aides assumed that Mr. Roosevelt would hold a press conference here before leaving for Washington by special train. From it, reporters hoped to obtain the first detailed account of the epochal conferences with Churchill and answers to questions puzzling statesmen and the public through the four corners of the earth.

Foremost among the questions thus far unanswered was whether the head of a nation still at peace had worked out with the chief of government of a country at war a specific plan for bringing about what they termed "the final destruction of the Nazi tyranny."

Had Mr. Roosevelt and Churchill determined on possible joint action in the Far East?

Had they discussed the battle of the Atlantic, convoys or other means of trying to guarantee safe delivery of American war equipment to Britain?

Await Answers

Might another multi-billion dollar lease-lend appropriation be expected soon?

Would Russia be asked to subscribe to the Roosevelt-Churchill declaration of an 8-point post-war policy "on which they base their hopes for a better future for the world?"

There was no assurance that the President would answer any or all of these questions. Newsmen waiting for him were none too optimistic, since Mr. Roosevelt repeatedly has declined to engage in any discussion which he thought might tip off the Axis on future moves.

Yankee Pilot In RAF Reported Safe

Montreal, Aug. 16 (AP)—Mrs. Joseph C. Mackey, wife of a 31-year-old Kansas City pilot reported killed in the crash of a British trans-Atlantic plane, was overjoyed last night to learn her husband was alive and well.

Mrs. Mackey said she had been advised by the Royal Air Force Ferry command that Mackey's name had been included erroneously yesterday in a list of persons killed in the accident, which occurred last Thursday in England.

(In London it was said Mackey had not been aboard the ill-fated trans-Atlantic plane, in which the Rt. Hon. Arthur Purvis, head of the British Supply Council in North America, and 21 airmen—including 11 Americans—met death. It appeared Mackey had been confused with a Canadian radio officer, G. W. Mackay, one of those killed.)

Mackey was the lone survivor of an airplane accident last February in Canada which killed Sir Frederick Banting, co-discoverer of insulin, and two others.

FRUSTRATE MOB SEEKING NEGRO

Roxboro, N. C., Aug. 15 (AP)—Quiet descended on this little town of 4,599 inhabitants near the North Carolina-Virginia line today after a night in which a mob of 500 men attempted unsuccessfully to get their hands on Cy Winstead, 22-year-old negro charged with assaulting a young white girl.

Until about 4 a. m. the mob members, armed with guns, stones, bottles and sticks, pelted the Person County jail while officers, hemmed up in a room in the jail, drove the men back at intervals with tear gas.

Sheriff M. T. Clayton who managed to whisk Winstead out of the little town to the state prison in Raleigh said that as far as he could learn no one had been seriously injured.

Six hours after the crowd began forming and the sheriff sent a new call for help to the State Highway patrol the mob began dispersing.

"It was the worst night in Person County history," the sheriff said. "The damage to the jail alone certainly is above $1,000."

"There's a bottling plant across the street from the jail and the mob entered that and hurled case after case of empty bottles into the jail."

Several times, the sheriff said, he could hear shooting but no one was actually hit by a bullet as far as he could learn.

Legality Of Milk Order Questioned

Harrisburg, Aug. 16 (AP)—The constitutionality of a Milk Control Commission order raising to $3.30 per hundredweight the milk price to producers in Philadelphia has been challenged by six Philadelphia dairy concerns.

They asked the Dauphin County Court yesterday to throw out the order, pointing out that in Zone 2 outside the city of Philadelphia farmers were paid only $3.21 per hundredweight.

Chapter 18
Lee Gray Calls
"It's too bad, Mr. Morris, that your first visit to New York should turn out to be so unpleasant for you," I said. "You must hate our fair city."

"Your fair city hasn't aroused me to any emotion, let alone the strenuous one of hate. And as for your murders, we have them in London, too. However, in London we are permitted to ignore them."

Jeff tossed the clippings on the table. "Look, Morris, why do you act so bored by this murder?"

"I am bored. Must I be intrigued by the death and the attempted murder of two American actresses who are famous for nothing but their death and attempted murder?"

Jeff looked disgusted. "It doesn't ring true. You're being detained here by the police for this murder. You happen to be a suspect. You should at least be mildly interested. Your boredom is a little too elaborate, like a character in one of your plays."

"A compliment, I assure you." "You are a suspect, you know. It was possible for you to have poisoned Carol Blanton."

"So I've gathered from Peterson. However, it wasn't possible for me to have stabbed your leading lady, since I wasn't at the theater last night."

"You mean you weren't seen at the theater last night?" "I wasn't seen?" Morris was puzzled, then he smiled. "Oh, yes, of course! I had forgotten that I'm able to turn myself into a pumpkin at will. Was a pumpkin seen at the theater last night, Mr. Troy?"

"Where were you between nine-thirty and ten-thirty, Mr. Morris?" "After a very bad dinner which was brightened only by the fact that I was alone. I walked. I walked and walked. Probably from eight until midnight."

"Do you know where you were about ten o'clock?" "Yes. That place . . . the Battery. Watching the ships leave for England with tears streaming down my cheeks."

"Nobody saw you?" "With my eyes all red and swollen! I hope not!"

"I mean," Jeff said, with admirable patience, "you don't have any witnesses—that you were where you say you were when Eve North was murdered?"

"No, of course not. Of course not. I could stonify myself. One should always have a witness while walking. But I left all my witnesses in London. In moth balls. So careless of me."

I could have kissed the telephone for ringing that time. Morris was having too much fun at Jeff's expense. Jeff reached over the table and swung the receiver to his ear. "Hello. Yes, yes, put her on. 'He turned to Morris. 'Some pest. I'll get rid of her for you. Hello . . . yes . . . this is Greeley Morris."

Morris made a quick movement toward the phone "I'm quite capable of . . ."

"Damn it!" Jeff yelled. "She hung up! Operator! Operator!" He was shouting into the mouthpiece. "Operator, trace that call! Trace it right away! Yes, you can. Damn it, stop talking and do it! Listen. Baby. Have you heard about the Colony Murder Case? Have you read about a girl named Lee Gray? Oh, you have! Well, that was Lee Gray on the wire! Now, for God's sake," he pleaded, "will you trace that call?"

He dropped the phone into its cradle and turned to us. "She'll call me back. Miss Lee Gray calling Mr. Greeley Morris! What about it, Mr. Morris?"

"A very ingenious trick and fairly amusing. However, I have no idea who the lady is nor why she should be calling me. If she was."

"Jeff," I said, "what was her voice like?" "Like . . . I don't know. All she said was one word: 'Greeley.'"

"She calls me Greeley, does she?" "Yes, and you don't know her, do you? Like hell you don't."

"I've heard she calls him Majesty George."

In a remarkably short time the phone rang again. Jeff answered it. He listened for a moment, said thanks and hung up.

"Well, Jeff?" "She called from a pay station in a drugstore at four fifty-four Madison Avenue." Jeff was disgusted. "A drugstore pay station! A lot of good that does us. But she called Mr. Morris and that's something."

"Yes, isn't it?" Morris said. "But what?" "I wish you'd tell us who she is."

"I don't know," he said wearily. "And I don't believe you." Jeff said. "And as for your walking alibi, I don't believe that either. I doubt if you've walked fifty consecutive steps in your life. If you had, you wouldn't look so bilious. C'mon, Haila!"

Lee Gray. That girl no one had ever seen, or knew, or even heard of. The police, for all their unlimited facilities, could find no trace of her. And yet she was in New York; she must eat somewhere and sleep somewhere, and somewhere in these seven million people must be those who were her friends.

She had slipped into the Colony Theater two nights ago and left a note for Carol Blanton, and at five minutes before one o'clock today she had entered a drugstore at Madison Avenue and Fifty-fourth and telephoned to Greeley Morris.

How had she managed to elude the nets thrown out for her by the police and why, if, as they believed, she had known of Carol's danger and had even tried to warn her of it, hadn't she come forward of her own accord?

And the Lee Gray enigma was only one of many. Two short days ago we had been, ostensibly at least, a normal group of people working together toward one objective, the success of Green Apples. Then suddenly the once affable Philip Ashley was quarreling with Eve North and snarling at me when I ventured into his dressing room. The once gay irresponsible Tommy Neilson now scowled and swore and drank too much. Carol had lost her voice and miraculously regained it. Alice McDonald, almost madly ambitious for success, ran away from it and refused to tell why.

If Carol had not been poisoned, if Eve had not been killed, might all these mysteries have passed unnoticed before our unsuspecting eyes? Or could they be in some inexplicable way, as Jeff seemed to think, all links in this chain of murder that was tightening around poor Carol?

As I turned the key in the lock a tall hawk-nosed man stepped out of the shadows at the end of the corridor.

"Wait a minute there, Sister!" With long, quick strides he was beside me, peering down into my face. "Oh, it's Miss Rogers, huh? That's okay, Sister, you can go in. I'm Crowley." His hand made brief contact with the brim of his hat and he was gone, lost in the shadows again.

Carol shuffled the hand of solitaire she was playing when I came in. Sketchily I told her of our morning's interviews and she listened in silence. Her eyes flew to my face when I spoke of the telephone call at the Gotham.

"Oh, Haila!" she breathed. "If they could trace her through that call, if they could find her."

"If they could find her we'd probably know all there is to know."

"But will they be able to? A drugstore! Does anyone notice who comes into a drugstore?"

I shrugged. "I don't know. Jeff went up to tell Peterson about it. We'll find out when he comes."

We lapsed into silence, Carol dealing out hands of solitaire and playing them methodically. I stretched out on the studio couch and smoked cigarettes.

It was after four when Jeff arrived, looking tired and woe-begone. "Nothing new," he said in answer to our excited inquiries, "nothing at all. Peterson says he'll do all that's in his power to trace Lee Gray through that phone call, but it's next to hopeless."

"But what about Greeley Morris? I protested. 'He knows something about her, I'm sure of it!'"

"He says he doesn't. I tagged along with Peterson back to the Gotham. Morris still doesn't know Lee Gray, never saw her, has no idea why she should be calling him. That's his story and he's sticking to it like adhesive tape. What can they do?"

Jinx There was a rap at the door and I answered it. A thin individual in a pinkish tan camel's hair coat and a pearl-gray fedora stood there. It took me two looks to see that this individual was Jinx, almost unrecognizable in his civvies. At his side was Crowley.

"Miss Rogers, tell this here gentleman," Jinx said, indicating Crowley, "who I am."

"Mr. Crowley, this is Jinx." "Thanks, Miss Rogers. And would you tell him what I do here?"

"Jinx runs the elevator. Night shift."

"Thanks, Miss Rogers. See, I gotta talk to Mr. Troy about important private business. Will you tell this here gentleman it's okay?"

"Do you want to see him, Mr. Troy?" asked Crowley.

Worst Storm in 11 Years at Pittsburgh

[By the Associated Press]

Four hundred highway department workmen were called on duty in Pittsburgh today to clear up mud and rubbish piled on streets yesterday by the city's heaviest rainfall in 11 years.

Rainstorms swept generally across the state. A large business and residential area of West Philadelphia was blacked out for half an hour when lightning crippled a substation of the Philadelphia Electric Company. Lights went out in thousands of homes and business houses and screens darkened in most motion picture theaters in a seven-square-mile area.

Altoona Darkened

A three-inch rain fell in Williamsport. Lightning struck the Masonic Temple there loosening plaster inside the building. It was the first real storm in that section since July Fourth, when 1.37 inches fell.

During a storm at Altoona yesterday, it got so dark street lights were turned on and motorists switched on headlights. The deluge failed to dampen the spirits of Pennsylvania Legionnaires holding their convention there, however.

At Pittsburgh, storm sewers were unable to carry off the 2.31-inch downpour recorded within two hours and water accumulated to a depth of four and five feet at a number of low spots. It was even higher at a depression along Washington Boulevard, which borders the Allegheny River. A truck driver, marooned on top of his cab on the boulevard, watched the water rise to his knees before it subsided.

Abandon Autos

A dozen motorists abandoned their cars, either wading or swimming through waist-deep water to higher spots. The lower end of Bigelow Boulevard was submerged to a depth of three feet. Cellars were flooded and trolley cars halted at 24 points.

Traffic semaphores went out of commission in the triangle, downtown business section where the 1936 flood caused havoc.

Highway Superintendent Elmer J. McDonald said that although dirt washed into the streets would be cleaned up in short order, with the help of emergency crews, a great many of the city's 23,000 sewer drops would have to be emptied. That, he said, would take "quite a few weeks."

MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Playing his second role on the screen, John Scott Trotter, the band-leader, who was seen in "Rhythm on the River," with Bing Crosby, appears in Paramount's film version with music of the Broadway stage hit, "Kiss the Boys Goodbye," at the Majestic Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

This gay hit picture stars Don Ameche and Mary Martin, and features Oscar Levant, Virginia Dale, Barbara Allen, Raymond Walburn, Elizabeth Patterson, Jerome Cowan, Connie Boswell and Rochester.

Trotter and his orchestra are featured on the Bing Crosby radio program. Another entertainer from the film occupying a high spot on the Crosby air show is Connie Boswell.

WEDNESDAY

James Cagney has a role that fits him like the proverbial glove in "Devil Dogs of the Air," which Warner Bros. have returned to the screen, and will be at the Majestic Wednesday. He plays the part of a defiant recruit in the Marine Corps, who finally learns what discipline means. The picture is a thrilling drama of the U. S. Marine Corps. Pat O'Brien is co-starred with Cagney as a fellow Devil Dog. In the cast besides Cagney and O'Brien are Margaret Lindsay and Frank McHugh. Lloyd Macon directed the picture from the screenplay by Malcolm Stuart Boyland and Earl Baldwin, based on the story by John Monk Saunders.

THURSDAY

A tense love story in the setting of the fascinating atmosphere of the Orient is the theme of "Singapore Woman," the new Warner Bros. film starring Brenda Marshall and David Bruce, which comes to the Majestic on Thursday. The gripping drama of a woman who meant death and misfortune to everyone she met is told in a manner that will hold one spellbound during the entire film. Brenda plays the part of the woman who is branded as the 'jinx' of Singapore.

David Bruce is cast as the owner of a rubber plantation who refuses to give credence to the 'jinx' story.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Jeffrey Lynn is starred in this exciting expose of the underground movement that is working to overthrow the strangle hold of the dictators. It is a story of courageous and fearless young men and women who daily risk their lives to operate the forbidden short wave radio that is their most potent weapon. Such

JURIST'S TRIAL IN 4TH WEEK

Philadelphia, Aug. 16 (AP).—Extensive cross examination of retired U. S. Circuit Court Judge J. Warren Davis has forced his federal court trial into its fourth week.

He was on the witness stand for 12 hours from Tuesday until yesterday when a week-end recess was taken and is to return when the trial resumes Monday.

Davis and former bankruptcy referee Morgan S. Kaufman are being tried on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice and defraud the United States. A jury failed to agree in their first trial.

Prosecutor Walter H. Gahagan, Jr., asked the 74-year-old jurist yesterday if he took a room at the Adelphi hotel here on Dec. 18, 1936. Davis said "I don't recall." Gahagan then produced an Adelphi registration card for that date and Davis identified his signature.

It was there, the government contends, that the jurist asked one-time movie magnate William Fox for a loan of $125,000 which Fox said he later gave the jurist in an effort to obtain favorable decisions on his bankruptcy litigation. Davis has denied ever receiving any money from Fox.

When Gahagan asked Davis if he were ever in Atlantic City on a Sunday, the judge replied, "I do not recollect ever having been." The prosecutor produced two registration cards showing Davis registered at the Hotel Traymore at the shore resort on Sunday, Dec. 9, 1934, and on Sunday, Oct. 6, 1935.

Tax On All Wages, Dividends Proposed

Washington, Aug. 16 (AP).—The Senate Finance Committee today pondered an income tax proposal that would reach into every pay envelope.

The United States Chamber of Commerce yesterday suggested that all wages and salaries, dividends and interest be taxed at the source as one method of boosting federal revenues by $4,500,000,000 a year.

As approved by the House the new tax bill would yield $2,336,700,000, according to treasury estimates.

Ellsworth C. Alvord, chairman of the chamber's Federal Finance Committee, estimated that a three per cent "withholding tax" would yield at least $2,000,000,000 annually.

Ann. of Bendersville, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Johnson and daughters, June and Ruth, near Waynesboro, visited Mrs. Walter Leber, Valley Grove Park, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Burke, York, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Baker.

The annual Shultz reunion will be held at Valley Grove Park on Sunday.

Through the request of the Borough Health Dept. of Gettysburg and due to the unfortunate occurrences in York, we feel it our duty to close our place of business for the season of 1941.

We wish to doubly impress each and every one who patronized us that at no time in our ten years of business has our water been otherwise than A-number-1, 100% pure.

Our records on file at the state Health dept. in Harrisburg will verify this statement.

The main reason for closing any type of business that caters to the public at a time like this is to keep crowds from assembling or congregating in any one place.

Thanking you for your past patronage and knowing our cooperation is your future.
